

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as with it comes a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and salts and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Strattonville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. F. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in that way and now write that it is their one family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy. Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Rules for Raising a Baby.

Realizing that in these high-tension days few people have the time nor inclination to lay out a regular set of rules, we have formulated the following ones. They are guaranteed to do the business or money back. They cost you nothing:

First, get your baby. All succeeding rules will be of little efficiency without the rigid observance of this fundamental one.

When the baby cries (as some babies are prone to do before taking our special course of training;) if you are its father, give it to its mother; if you are its mother, give it to its grandmother. That's what grandmothers are for—and they got a lot of practice on you.

To stop a baby from fussing pinch it on the lower left leg. That will make it cry.

When the baby has the stomach ache, pat it on the other side. Increase the dose until the desired result is attained. Soothing syrup in doses of about a quart and a half will also be found beneficial. The removal of a safety pin from the baby's epidermis will also often effect a complete and immediate cure.

Don't worry if the neighbors tell you the baby is a perfect picture of its papa. Babies seldom develop their good looks while young.

Don't stick your fingers into the baby's mouth when he is teething. There are other and more sanitary ways of washing your hands.

If the baby's food disagrees with him, take it away. He may learn the bad habit of "sassing back" from such associations.

When you go shopping you will save yourself much annoyance by leaving the baby with a neighbor. By using diplomacy you can find out when your neighbor is going down town, when you will exhibit much wisdom by either being away yourself or sick in bed, for your neighbor may also be endeavoring to raise a baby by those same rules.

Every thoughtful and loving mother should arrange it so that when father comes home the baby will be asleep with enough soothing syrup to insure complete rest to his tired nerves during his hours at home. Wives will greatly add to the longevity of their husbands by this method.

When baby is learning to talk, feed it castor oil. This will lubricate the tongue and vocal organs. For girl babies substitute a muffler.

To familiarize yourself with the baby language, it is considered expedient for mother and father to prepare themselves as follows: Wife should sit on hubby's lap just as she did in the happy period when babies were not considered. You should sit in the front bay window so all the neighbors can see you. This will tend to make you feel small and kiddish. Now put hot potatoes in your mouths and try to talk. Familiarize yourself with the sounds and the words they are meant for and you will find it a great aid in understanding baby prattle. You will not say the same thing twice the same way—but neither will the baby.

When baby says and does cute things, just keep them to yourself. There is no sense in wasting the brightness of your family upon deluded parents who can not be convinced that your baby is brighter than theirs.

If the baby is a girl, be sure to have its picture taken in the nude. She will take such delight in exhibiting it to her sweethearts in later years.

For the father who wishes to learn to bathe and dress the baby, we furnish a special set of instructions in book form, gotten up in convenient pocket size, illustrated by Teddy Roosevelt, a recognized international authority.

If these rules do not prove efficient and practical, they can be supplemented with a correspondence course.

Sounds Queer.

The following items taken from the Kansas City Star claiming to be an independent paper, but which was known far and wide as a most rapid supporter of the Republican party in the last election has been publishing various items coming from this source it does sound "queer" to say the least to the Democrats of Missouri. In fact we think the Star will be a pretty good Democrat before the campaign ends. Read the following:

The Republican party of Missouri adopted a re-actionary platform and appointed Charles D. Morris receiver.

Secretary Ballinger is in Seattle 2,500 miles from Washington. And he is approximately the same distance up in the air.

Two more standpatters fell by the wayside in the Illinois primaries yesterday. From which it appears there are "local conditions" in Illinois, also.

Representative H. S. Boutell of Illinois, whom President Taft used to call the "Boanerges of protection," was defeated for re-nomination at the primaries yesterday. For some reason the public isn't grateful to Boanerges of protection.

"Insurgency, I predict, will sweep the entire Republican party," says the ex-Mayor Bookwater of Indianapolis. This is, however, only partly correct. Insurgency will do more than sweep the party—it will scrub the party.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

If you adopt a progressive platform, not a cent for the campaign fund.

If you adopt a standpat platform, the bar'll be opened.

Stated in Kansas language, that was the ultimatum from the national congressional committee to the Republican party council in Kansas City.

How does this money reach the national congressional committee? It comes from the beneficiaries of the tariff and other special privilege.

How do it reach them? From the nobles whom special privilege raises to gorge.

MODERN WOODMEN AT THE STATE FAIR.

Hundreds of Men are Drilling for the Great Event—Class Adoption at Night.

The greatest fraternal pageant ever presented in the state of Missouri will be the Modern Woodmen demonstration on their big day during the state fair at Sedalia, Oct. 3. Thousands of people all over the state are preparing for the great event and the magnificent military movement of the many colored uniform rank of that order will present a sight never to be forgotten. In order that everybody may see the drills, there will be three teams drilling at the same time so that any seat in the amphitheater will be directly in front of one of the drills. The great band contest for large prizes will be in progress all day and there will be more bands on the ground during this day than at any time during the history of the fair.

Arrangements have been perfected for a great class adoption in the magnificent pavilion at night. This splendid auditorium seats 7,000 or 8,000 people and one feature of the building is that a speaker using only a conversational tone can be heard anywhere in the great building. The new ritual of the Modern Woodmen will be used by the officers of the largest camp in the entire jurisdiction and the team work will be done by the prize winning team of the day. As the ritual is new and many of the members have never seen it properly exemplified, much more than ordinary interest is being taken by the members of the order in this great feature of the Woodmen day at the state fair. Head Consul A. R. Talbot will be present and deliver an address during the course of the evening, as will also one or more of the members of the board.

The railroads have granted a rate of one fare for the round trip, good for the entire week so that parties can see this great demonstration and remain over for other features of the fair later. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a series of the best races during the entire week will begin and later in the afternoon the justly celebrated Wright Bros. will make their new model air ship flight.

There will be more to entertain, and of a wider variety, than at any time during the entire week and present indications are that October 3 will witness the greatest crowd ever assembled on the state fair ground.

THE TARIFF AND TRUSTS RESPONSIBLE FOR HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Here is the select senate minority committee explanation of high prices:

"The tariff, trusts and an increased money supply are responsible for the advance in prices in the United States.

"The first two are the chief malefactors and are of our own creation or permission.

"When the Payne-Aldrich bill was framed champagne was put on the schedules at from 54 to 66 per cent, whilst wearing apparel was taxed from 80 to 92 per cent—drinking champagne was to be encouraged and wearing woolen clothes discouraged.

"Hats bringing not over $4.50 per dozen were taxed 77 per cent and those valued at more than $18 per dozen at 47 per cent.

"The high woolen schedule suits out practically all foreign competition. The protected manufacturer adds the rate to the goods he sells.

"Trusts flourish only under the shadow of a protective tariff."

It's a peculiar anomaly that Roosevelt should have his talking headquarters at Oyster Bay.

WHY THE TARIFF WAS REVISED UPWARD.

Senator Bristow, Republican, in a speech at Winfield, Kan., July 9, 1910, made the following charges, every one of which is a matter of record and can be easily verified:

"When the new tariff passed the lower House of Congress, the duty on manufactured rubber was left the same as it had been in the Dingley bill, 30 per cent; in the Senate, the rate was raised to 35 per cent; the change was made by Senator Aldrich in the room of the finance committee. This tariff became a law on August 5. Within a month, in September of last year, the news came out that a rubber company was being organized. Within three months the organization was complete; its capital is $40,000,000, its managing head is the son of Senator Aldrich, Senator Aldrich himself is a director and holds 25,000 shares; among the other large stockholders are Simon Guggenheim, senator from Colorado, with 10,000 shares, and four of Senator Guggenheim's brothers, with an aggregate of 38,900 shares. Within three months after its organization, the new rubber company had paid dividends aggregating 18.2 per cent."

"The people are thus given an insight into the work of tariff tinkering that explains why it was revised upward, instead of downward. And remember, Mr. Missouri voter, that Senator Warner and every Republican congressman from Missouri voted for this increased rubber tariff which enabled the Aldrichs and Guggenheims to organize a rubber trust to plunder the people. If you can not indorse such infamous legislation, vote the Democratic ticket and help turn the rascals out."
